Objective of our primary health programme in the Rohingya Refugee Camps

To reduce mortality and morbidity rates amongst the targeted Rohingya refugees and vulnerable host communities, especially women and children under 5 years of age.

Urgent funding needed to keep life-saving health care running in the world's largest refugee camp (Cox's Bazar, Bangladesh)

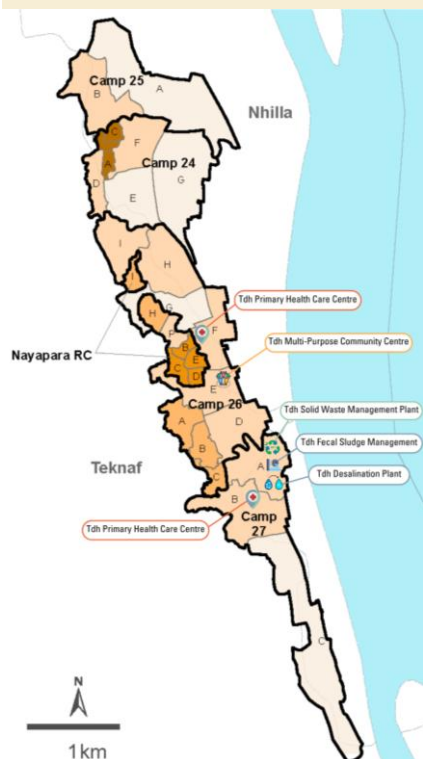

Terre des hommes' (Tdh) primary health programme has been delivering essential, life-saving health services to over 52,700 Rohingya refugees and adjacent host community members in Camps 26 and 27 in Teknaf, Cox's Bazar since 2017. With US funding set to end in August 2025, we require approximately USD 1.33 million per year to ensure the uninterrupted delivery of these critical health services.

Tdh operates two large Primary Health Centers (PHCs) in Camps 26 and 27, which provide 24-hour services, 365 days of the year. Tdh has been providing services including:

- maternal and child health,
- communicable and non-communicable disease management,
- malnutrition screening and treatment,
- emergency patient referrals,
- sexual reproductive health services,
- Basic Emergency Obstetric and Neonatal Care, and
- Mental Health and Psychosocial Support

These services are delivered by a skilled team of 72 medical professionals, including 10 doctors, 2 pediatricians, 9 medical assistants, 6 nurses, 12 midwives, 10 nurse aides, 1 pharmacist & 1 lab technician, and 40 auxiliary volunteers.

In addition to these clinic-based services, Tdh also delivers primary health and nutrition outreach services at the community level through 20 Community Health Workers (CHWs) and 20 Traditional Birth Attendants (TBAs), all of whom are refugee or host community volunteers. The CHWs are responsible for disease surveillance and response to disease outbreaks, treatment of basic illnesses and wounds, promoting awareness of health, nutrition and hygiene best practices and referral of patients to Tdh's PHCs. The TBAs are tasked with conducting home-based deliveries, providing ante-, post-natal and newborn care, promoting Infant and Young Child Feeding best practices and referral of complex cases to the PHCs.

These essential services will come to an end in August 2025 unless we secure new funding!
